TEN MILLION DOLLARS are to be spent in the present national campaign. This means an expenditure of some $8,000,000 by the two major parties and $2,000,000 by the wet, dry and farm organizations. The expenses of the actual machinery of election may come to several millions of dollars more. Is it necessary? The average voter will wonder. This tremendous sum would pay off the national debt of some small countries. When Lincoln ran, the expenditure of a single million would have precipitated a scandal which would have rocked the nation. When John Adams ran, $2000 covered the expenses of his entire campaign. Those were the days when he believed in the Constitution and nothing else.

PULLMAN PORTERS and maids renew their threats to tie up the Pullman car service unless salaries are banished and higher salaries are substituted. They call this demanding. Unfortunately, the American public cannot accustom itself to non-tipping if it wants service. "Extra" service would not be offered if tips were abolished. American travelers know that.

GREAT BRITAIN IS PERTURBED about its unemployment situation. Eleven per cent of approximately 12,000,000 working people are out of work. The unemployed number 1,273,360. This immense number of people are living on meager government doles. If 2 per cent of the working population is out of work in this country express concern. Industries in Great Britain are slumping, but industries here report slight recessions. The automotive industry has had the best year in its history. Americans have much to be thankful for if they appreciate the troubles of their European brothers.

MEMBERS OF THE NEW YORK Rotary Club have volunteered their services as jurors. They decried the evading of jury service, and believe it should be a privilege to serve. Many men have lost business by serving on juries, whether it is a duty or not, and many of those selected have not been qualified to pass judgment on what they heard. Our jury system is far from what it should be.

JACKIE COOGAN, juvenile movie star, who is growing older every day, will appear in a dance act, having been taken out of a military school which was making a little soldier out of him—not so good for the stage. Jackie has made much money for his parents but his big money days apparently are over. Even boy film stars grow into young men, no matter how disappointing to fathers who have become good business managers.

VINCENT A. O'Donnell, manager of the Detroit Steel Products company, has petitioned the courts to permit him to drop the "O" from his name, so that he may be called Vincent Astor O'Donnell. His brother Francis, a hard working policeman sticks by the name of O'Donnell and Vincent Astor, who likes real names, takes his stand with him. Stand by your family name, whatever it may be. You are living in a country which believes in the aristocracy of character and brains. Names are secondary to that. No unblemished family name can be a handicap, whatever it may be.

RE-OPENS STUDIO Vera Wyatt Fraser will re-open her piano studio on August 3, room 304, in the Pillow building, on Seventh and Macdonald avenues. She will teach pianoforte on Fridays and Saturdays of each week.

Prominent Club Woman Is Found Dead

BODY OF MRS. SCHRAM FOUND BY NEIGHBOR

Mrs. Florence E. Schram, Richmond pioneer and active in the social life of the city for the past 25 years, was found dead in her room in the Schram building, 625 Macdonald avenue, early last evening. From the condition of the body, coroner Aubrey Wilson stated that death probably occurred some time last Saturday.

She was last seen alive on Saturday morning when Miss Edith Stige, overseer of the building, visited her and brought a breakfast tray. Friday night, Mrs. Schram visited Mrs. Marie Ogora, 735 Bissell avenue and did not appear to be ill.

Sunday Mrs. Ogora called at Mrs. Schram's rooms and noticed the door ajar. She looked in the room but not seeing the woman, surmised that she had gone out. Last night Mrs. Ogora and Miss Stige became alarmed at the continued absence of Mrs. Schram and entered the room. They discovered the tray undisturbed on the table and the body of Mrs. Schram lying on the floor, where it had apparently fallen from the bed.

Mrs. Schram was the widow of the late George Schram, associated with the early real estate growth of Richmond and builder of the Schram building here. She was a member of the Richmond club and active in church circles. Surviving her is one son, George E. Schram, real estate operator of Glendale, who was notified by coroner Wilson last night and who is on his way to Richmond to make arrangements for the funeral.

Death is believed to have been due to heart trouble.

Chief Witness Is Assailed

OAKLAND, Calif., July 31.—(U.P.)—Charges of tampering with his chief witness against three asserted Oakland bank robbers accused of the murder of a teller were made today by District Attorney Earl Warren. He claimed Mrs. Catherine Dolan, who identified the men had been forced to change her testimony.

Chaplin Wept In Cafe Fire

LOS ANGELES, July 31.—(U.P.)—Charlie Chaplin, the fun man of the films, wept the night the Russian Eagle cafe burned, General Theodore Odensky, former officer in the Russian Imperial army told a courtroom today.

The testimony was in the trial of M. Jevahov Tozaze, Russian curio dealer, accused of having burned the cafe and his shop to collect insurance.

In perfect English the general who that night was host to a score of Hollywood celebrities, said:

"Charlie asked me if I had any insurance. I told him I had but $5000. He actually wept and said 'Oh, my friend, that is terrible—terrible—oh, you will be ruined.'"

Later the witness testified that Charlie aided in the rescue of the general from the flaming building.

Giant Rock And Concrete Fender To Guard World's Greatest Highway Bridge

Another mighty engineering feat is well under way in treacherous Carquinez straits, forming the northern arm of San Francisco bay!

It was across this deep, swift channel where the tides rush in at 20 miles an hour that on May 20, 1927 the Carquinez bridge, $8,000,000 highway structure, was flung across the waters, between Crockett and Vallejo, and forming the connecting link in the world's longest single motor road—the Pacific Highway, extending from British Columbia to Mexico, more than 1775 miles!

And today a rock island, 430 feet long by 340 feet wide, is rising about the center piers, the base for a gigantic reinforced concrete fender—a protection to the shipping that passes under the bridge and a protection to the mighty bridge itself.

The great highway bridge cost $8,000,000 and the fender will cost approximately $1,000,000.

It took four years to build the bridge. It will take at least one year to build the fender.

"They told us we couldn't construct a fender around the center piers, because of the depth and swiftness of the current," said George J. Calder, chief engineer and vice-president of the American Toll Bridge company, builders of the Carquinez span, "but we are doing it."

The first problem encountered by the engineers was to find a way to place the rock at the bottom of Carquinez straits, 90 feet deep at this particular point, the center piers, that it might not be carried away by the rush of the current.

Dropping it down from the surface would never do. And so a heavy steel, 3-foot diameter pipe was slanted down into the depths. Through this pipe the rock, comprising minute particles to great cubes two and a half feet in diameter, is laid on the bottom of the straits.

This rock is being spread at the rate of 500 tons daily. And it will require 160,000 tons to build the "island" the required size and rising 60 feet above mean low water. This is enough rock to build a highway 53 miles long. (Continued on Page Eight)

Bail Reduction Denied Assailant

Reduction of bail for Jesus Valencia, charged with assault with a deadly weapon as the outcome of the stabbing of Doroteo Morales of Stige during an altercation at Second street and Barrett avenue Sunday night, was denied yesterday by Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Alstrom, when District Deputy Attorney Hiram E. Jacobs opposed the motion made by Will S. Roberson, attorney for the defendant.

Valencia's bail has been set at $5,000 in lieu of which he is in the city jail awaiting preliminary hearing.

Morales had recovered sufficiently from his wounds yesterday to be removed to his home. According to Dr. L. St. John Hely who treated the injured man, the collar bone and a rib deflected the two knife thrusts, saving the man's life.

TO RETURN HOME Mrs. Joseph Wilson of San Pablo is expected home from Petaluma, where she went to bring home her daughter, Frances who has been visiting her grandmother.

RETURNS FROM RIVER Al Abraham, manager of "The Fashion," has returned from the Russian river where he spent the past ten days with a party of friends.

NO THRILL FOR HER EVANSVILLE, July 31.—(U.P.)—Virginia Alice White, 2, is a very up-to-date little girl and to show airplane riding is a matter of course to her, she took a nap while up 1,800 feet. She made her first flight with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Alvin T. White.

HUGE SUM IS EXPENDED ON SCHOOLS HERE

Contra Costa County spent more than two and a half million dollars for new schools and maintenance of schools during the year ending June 30, 1928, according to figures released from the County Superintendent of Schools office in Martinez.

With an expenditure of $1,374,616.31, which included three new buildings, one at Pittsburg, one at Crockett and the other at Richmond, the high schools had had the elementary and kindergarten grades by several thousand dollars.

The elementary grade schools spent $1,087,108.62 and the kindergarten $287,507.69 to bring the total for the county public schools to $2,464,726.31.

Contra Costa County is gradually bringing to the front in educational circles, spending more money and time in making the county the leading educational circles in the West, than several counties of considerable larger population, the report shows.

According to figures given out at the office the total average daily attendance in the three departments during the past year was 13,997. The elementary grades led here with an average of 10,439; high school 2885 and the kindergarten 673.

Mother, Girl In Ferry Hoax Deny Charges

Pleading not guilty on charges of maintaining a false suit for $50,000 in connection with the alleged "death hoax" in the Petaluma ferry "nose dive," Mrs. Bernice Huffman and her daughter, Isabel Robertson, were yesterday arraigned before Superior Judge John D. Murphy who set their trial for August 27 in the Oakland court.

Mrs. Huffman filed suit against the Key System Transit company for damages totalling $50,000 for the alleged death of her daughter, who was later discovered working in a roadhouse near Vallejo by an investigator for an insurance company. The woman claimed that her daughter was expected home on the Petaluma the night the ferry nose-dived in the bay, and that she presumably was drowned.

BIRTHS REGISTERED

Certificates filed in the office of the city health department yesterday recorded the births of the following: Robert Harry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Parks, Lafayette, California, born July 28; Jesus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Aguirre, San Pablo, born July 27; Louis Berna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Hefflinger, Richmond, born July 25; Theodora, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodora La Marr, Richmond, born July 22.

CHAMPION HITCH HIKER

KENTON, O., July 31.—(U.P.)—Kenton now lays claim to the champion "hitch hiker." Nelson Arn, 19, in company with William Woodworth of Lakewood, recently returned from a 6,200-mile jaunt which carried them into the Western and Southern states and Mexico.

The entire distance was made by the "hitch hike" method and without the expenditure of a cent for traveling expenses.

She Doesn't Seem to Care

SENTENCED TO DIE in the electric chair at Atlanta, Ga., for murder, Mrs. Eula Elred Thompson (above) seems little concerned about her fate. She worries more about her husband, who is doomed to die with her for the same crime.

QUARTER MILLION INCREASE IN COUNTY BUDGET IS ASKED

MARTINEZ, July 31.—Budget appropriations that will exceed $550,000 the costs of administration of government in Contra Costa county last year are included in estimates held by the board of supervisors today from county officials and departments.

Experts engaged in aiding County Auditor A. N. Sullenger install the budget system submitted reports to the supervisors yesterday afternoon that indicated, they said, that the total budget requests would be in the neighborhood of $4,300,000 as compared with a total expenditure last year of $3,972,000. A complete check on figures has not been made, the supervisors were told, and there will probably be some revision when a final compilation is made.

The supervisors did not have an opportunity yesterday to make a detailed examination of budget requests but announced that they would be scanned next Monday.

Taxpayers Will Form Unit Here

MARTINEZ, July 31.—Organization of a Contra Costa county unit of the California Taxpayers' Association is scheduled at a meeting of county property owners to be held in Martinez Monday. Announcement of the organization gathering was made today by Rose W. Hendes, organizing secretary of the association, who has been here for several days preparing the organization plan. It is planned the proposed unit shall make surveys to economize in city, county and school district budgets.

LEAVES FOR L. A.

Eugene and Mrs. Hunter left yesterday for a vacation to be spent in Los Angeles. Hunter is employed in the operating department of the Standard Oil company here.

STOLEN CHECK IS BELIEVED BANDIT CLUE

PETALUMA, July 31.—(U.P.)—Local police officers were aroused tonight by a report that a man believed to be William Herder, former Oregon convict, who is sought for the murder of a deputy sheriff near Willow Creek had been seen here. Roads in the vicinity were guarded and local rooming houses were searched for the man who attempted to cash a postal money order at a local telegraph office. The manager of the office refused to cash it and officers said it was similar to one stolen from the Willow Creek postoffice before Deputy Sheriff William Carpenter was killed in a battle with three bandits.

One of the bandits was killed and another in an asserted confession accused Herder of being a member of their band.

Eagles To Name Two Officers

Election for officers to fill the vacancies of chaplain and outside guard for the Point Richmonderie of Eagles will be held next Tuesday night, according to an announcement made last night at a meeting presided over by P. F. Barry in Woodmen hall. A report on the drum corps recently organized and directed by Bert O'Loan was delivered and showed that progress is being made.

Victims Of Train Wreck Recovering

WOODLAND, Calif., July 31.—(U.P.)—Only six of the 46 persons who were injured in the wreck of the American Bar association special and the Cascade Limited at Cortena Sunday remained in the Woodland hospital tonight.

Fifteen others had been taken to the general hospital in San Francisco and it was believed they would be released soon.

Those who were still here were Clarence Scott, Quincy, Ill.; Grace Hoxter, Chicago; J. H. Brides, Henderson, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Copper, Plattsburgh, N. Y.; and John Shea, Cincinnati.

Scott was operated on this afternoon and physicians said he would recover.

A board of inquiry met at Cortena to fix the blame for the wreck. Indications were the investigation would be continued into the night or adjourn until Wednesday.

BOYS USUALLY FEEL CALL TO ROOM AT 11-16

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—(U.P.)—To the growing boy the long road away beckons most alluringly when he is between 11 and 16 years old; to the girl the desire to roam comes most strongly at the ages of 15 to 16.

Those conclusions have been drawn following adoption of a new system of analysis inaugurated by the Los Angeles police department to determine causes of juvenile delinquency.

After a three-month study the officials declared it had proved there was a "restless age" and it was felt by girls at almost definite times while with boys it appeared at more widely separated intervals.

During the month 85 boys and 12 girls were listed on department records as having disappeared from their homes here. Of that number 60 per cent severed home ties because of misunderstandings, juvenile officers said. The boy is apt to heed the call of adventure if he thinks he is mistreated or unappreciated at home. He rarely leaves, as does the girl because of sex matters. Poverty plays a negligible part in youthful runaways and ignorance on the part of parents, over-discipline and under-discipline are the primary causes for the breaking of bonds between youth and father and mother.

L. V. Hanson, D. W. Lester and Anna D. Hahn co-operated in formulating the new system of reports. They believe that another year will provide invaluable information in determining causes of juvenile delinquency and in effecting remedies.

SUGAR FOR ALCOHOL
HAVANA, Cuba, July 31.—(U.P.)—Greater production of sugar cane, to be used for the manufacture of alcohol, and not for refining into sugar, is urged by Dr. Henry Arnstein, a noted chemist of Philadelphia, Pa., who believes Cuba could overcome increasing world competition in the sugar market by this means.

KEENO PARTY BY VETERANS IS SUCCESS

The Keeno party held last night in Memorial hall for the benefit of the drum corps of honor post Veterans of Foreign Wars was well attended and was a financial success, a large sum being raised toward the fund to send the drum corps to the state convention in San Diego next year.

A musical program was presented by Miss Alberta McGonick, and Miss Addie Ramey, and by Charles Masala and Joe Regel.

This is the first of a series of affairs planned for the reason of Honor post for the entertainment of the members and a number of future events are being discussed.

Refreshments were provided by Honor auxiliary and served by a committee consisting of William Vickery, George Imbach, L. R. Holt and George Ford. Initiation will be held next Tuesday night.

Scouts Are Guests Of Exchange Club

Members of the Boy Scout troop sponsored by the Richmond Exchange club were guests of that organization at the weekly dinner held in the Hotel Carquinez last night and presided over by John Moore. Boy Scout affairs formed the chief topic of discussion. Gordon Perault was chairman of the day and the program was in charge of Wally Kruger.

The boys of troop No. 8 presented camp activities for the Exchange, singing songs, drilling and showing the various phases of campfire life. Scoutmaster "Cooey" Shock was in charge. The committee in charge of the Exchange troop is Lloyd Bolt, E. Marcus, M. Hadley, B. Welsgerber and G. Perault.

DISRUPTED BY PRETTY MAID
The disruption of a police department and the upsetting of a police court presided over by an ambitious young judge who has political aspirations, figure prominently in the latest Paramount picture featuring Esther Ralston in "Love and Learn" that comes to the California Theatre today for one day only.
The above situations do not exactly prompt Esther Ralston would be capable of such doings, but she shows in "Love and Learn" that she is capable of more things than that. She even gets a husband in the bargain.
The theme of the story is said to furnish plenty of opportunity for patrons to forget all troubles and worries, as it is packed with laughs with the kind that are the most desired, those kind that are prompted by being one getting into difficulty through no fault of their own and their subsequent efforts to get out of it.
Miss Ralston portrays the role of the chic young daughter, reeling from boarding school, only to find her parents are about to separate. She decides to get in trouble thereby deferring such action to her parents in their desire to help her out. She succeeds, but only after creating situations she could not have possibly expected, and as before stated, gets a husband in the bargain.
Her method of getting in trouble is making faces at policemen and owing a bribe through the window, harboring the police station, she is pursued by the entire force, and in the chase that follows she breaks up a meeting of the young judge who is making a political speech for reelection. She is tried before the judge for her escapades, and her sentence is suspended because the judge takes pity on her. Thwarted in her desire for getting in jail she fires a court attendant's revolver into the ceiling. This incident leads to her jail sentence, and from then on, many more hilarious situations occur. It is then that the picture becomes a family comedy.
Other film features include King Harold, a Pathe comedy, and Kinograms, Will Rogers in Ireland.
Tomorrow's picture will be "Telling the World" with William Haines.

SCREEN STAR
ON BATHING
A bathhouse in the heart of Paris is quite a different procedure than what it is in an American apartment. The traditional Saturday evening ablutions of the whole family is quite unknown in the French city. It fell the lot of Margaret Livingston in the leading feminine role in Columbia's "A Woman's Way" which is scheduled at the Richmond Theatre tonight, to illustrate the French method of bathing.
Those who are familiar with the European city will recall the firms which thrive on furnishing hot water in the home. A cart passes through the streets of the Latin Quarter drawn by two men. The body of the wagon is a cloth filled with boiling water. On top of the tank are a copper tub, pails, soap and towels. A call from a window will cause the men to stop. One balances the inverted copper tub on his head, while the other fills two pails suspended from his shoulders by a yoke arrangement, with hot water.
Margaret Livingston describes the practice in the following manner: "Open the window and look for a bath cart. When you see one, outcries your neighbors who also desire ablutionary enjoyment. When the bathmen arrive, pointing to your floor, with a portable copper tub, buckets of hot water, soap and towels, match your breath against theirs haggling over fees. Now you are ready for actual bath. Pull down the shade. Put up a screen. Scald in the hot water and shiver in the cold room. Crawl into your tub. Take down the screen. Put up the shade. Call the bathmen who are waiting outside. Relinquish soap and towels to the next bath aspirant."
The bath incident is but one of several intimate pictures of French life depicted in "A Woman's Way." Columbia has made an effort in this feature to present the true Paris as the public. Warner Baxter has the masculine lead in a play which contains such prominent players as Armand Kaliz, Mathilde Comont, Ernie Adams and John St. John.
On the same bill will be "Oh! Mabel," a real funny comedy, and "Harem Scarem," a distinct novelty.

Coolidge Has No Plans For Active Drive
SUPERIOR, Wis., July 31.—(U.P.)—President Coolidge was represented today as having no plans to aid in the Republican presidential campaign.
The president hopes his record as chief executive and the conduct of his administration since August 6, 1923, may commend itself not only to the republican party but to the nation as a whole, and he feels that record should serve as his moral contribution to Secretary Hoover's campaign.
The campaign, the president believes, excludes possibility of any action on tariff revision during the coming short session of congress. Any such action, in his opinion, would be possible only after an advance agreement had been reached by responsible leaders on each side of congress, and he thinks there is virtually no likelihood of that because of campaign activities.

Lacking Singing Quality
It Will Be Short Lived
New York City.—Will our modern American music be short-lived because it lacks the singing quality of old-world music?
Alice Zepilli of Chicago Opera fame thinks so, and declares that unless the singing quality is developed soon, there will be little, if any, remnant of American music that will last through the years.
"Songs cannot be kept alive that cannot be sung from generation to generation," she points out. The folk lore and ballads of nations are perpetuated only in this way.
"Modern American music is purely a music for dancing. Whether this dancing craze is the outgrowth of our music, or whether our music is the outgrowth of our dancing craze is not clear, but at least the music is purely a dance music. Here in America, to mention a singing club or choral society sounds quaint and unfamiliar, but abroad there is not a town so tiny that it doesn't have its own singing group. A few modern songs are combinations with dancing and singing qualities standing out like clear diamonds. 'Ramona' is one of the few numbers which has the quality of an aria, a folk song and the dance. Its international popularity is proof of this. American musicians must discover the secret of this combination if they wish their music to live. I expect to be singing 'Ramona' ten years from now, and it is the only American song I know of which I can make this prediction."
"I am strongly in favor of international broadcasting, so that our American composers can daily hear the native foreign music. I think that unconsciously this will have a very beneficial influence."

LINCOLN ROAD TO BE ROUTED
VIA CARQUINEZ
MARTINEZ, July 31.—Lincoln highway officials recently definitely announced that the route would be changed from Sacramento via Fairfield, Carquinez bridge and Pinole into Oakland, which, they said, would save more than a score of miles over the present route via Lodi, Stockton and Livermore.
Appearing before the board of supervisors here officials of the Lincoln Highway Association said the change would be effected soon and that signing of the new route would be started shortly.
LODI, July 31.—The matter of diverting the Lincoln Highway through Fairfield over the Carquinez bridge will be brought before the board of directors of the Lodi District Chamber of Commerce at its monthly meeting on Wednesday night.
The Associated Chambers of Commerce of San Joaquin County has taken up the matter and will use its influence to prevent the elimination of San Joaquin county from the Lincoln highway, as this plan of diversion would do.

DRY LAW GIVES PROSPERITY TO GRAPE FARMERS

SACRAMENTO, July 31.—(U.P.)—Growers of wine grapes in California are prospering under prohibition.

Since 1919, the acreage devoted to grapes for wine-making purposes has increased nearly 1,000 per cent, according to the California State Department of Agriculture.

Reports compiled for 1928 indicate that thirsty Americans no longer look to France, Italy and the Balkans for their wine, but are now consuming the home product in bigger and better quantities. California farmers realize this with the result that many are tearing up their raisin and table grape crops and planting wine grapes. Others are waiting until the table and raisin varieties are no longer bearing and then are planting wine juice stock.

All counties in the state, with two or three exceptions, are growing grapes for shipment to eastern wine markets. Sixteen counties grow no other varieties. Grape growers in California fought tooth and nail against the 18th amendment, declaring that it meant utter ruin to them. When it did go into effect, many of them gave up their vineyards immediately. Those who had faith that the amendment would be repealed soon, stuck by their crops, and they prospered so amazingly that they don't care now if it ever is repealed.

"The rapid expansion of the grape industry in California as compared with the rest of the United States has been primarily the result of prohibition," declared a report of the Department of Agriculture, in explaining the unusual growth of the wine grape growing industry.

"Before 1915 practically none of the grapes shipped from the state were designed for wine-making. By 1921, however, almost 20,000 carloads of juice stock were shipped, and in 1927 an average of 75,000 carloads, or approximately 80 per cent of California's grape shipments have been wine juice stocks."

In 1915 there were less than 2,000 acres of wine grapes growing under the California sun, but the estimated acreage of 1928 is 187,591 acres of juice stock, with an increase of 6,827 acres. While table and raisin grapes have declined somewhat, wine grapes have increased enormously every year since 1919, the report reveals.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said:

"One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless. Nujol works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

Europe and Back in a Week

The two former German war aces are now in Detroit negotiating for a tri-motored Ford plane in which they hope to make the first round-trip flight to Europe. What's more they intend to do it in a week. Vollert worked as a bus boy in a Newark restaurant to help finance the undertaking.

JINX BROKEN WHEN HOOVER NABS TROUT

BROWN'S CAMP, NEAR HORN-BROOK, Calif., July 31.—(U.P.)—Herbert Hoover today broke the jinx attending his fishing trip in northern California and brought a fine catch of rainbow trout into camp.

The republican presidential nominee slipped away from camp at daybreak with two taciturn fishing companions and made a difficult journey of 35 miles high up in the Sierran mountains. The last eight miles of the trip were made on horseback over a hazardous mountain trail familiar to Hoover in the days when he worked as an engineer in northern California.

Reaching a point near the headwaters of Beaver Creek, the three, unmolested by photographers or curious campers, found the rainbow trout nibbling eagerly at the bait.

Within a short time Hoover had caught nearly a dozen fish while his companions were equally successful. He had intended remaining away from camp all day but decided early in the afternoon to return and exhibit his catch.

Upon his arrival movie photographers who had been waiting for two days to get pictures of the presidential nominee as a successful fisherman swarmed about him.

He was put through the ordeal of posing many times with his string of fish, but he did it willingly with the triumphant smile of a born fisherman who has overcome the jinx of days of unsuccessful effort.

French "Tiger" Still Declines Academy Seat

PARIS, July 31.—(U.P.)—Eighty-seven years old, Georges Clemenceau looks still with disdain upon all proposals to give him immortality as a member of the Academie Francaise. The Academie is frankly worried about it, and during the past few months has tried to bring all manner of pressure upon the great statesman, but always without the slightest result. "Thanks for the honor, but I have no desire to be initiated into your august body," is the "Tiger's" invariable answer. According to a well informed French journalist, the reason for his attitude is to be found in the refusal of members of the Academie a few years ago to consider Monet and other artists of the period as eligibles, and virtually

Deputy Sheriff Hurt In Crash

MARTINEZ, July 31.—Propelled by a rear-end smash from a heavily laden pear truck which was towing a similarly laden trailer, an automobile belonging to Deputy Sheriff Dike Joslin of Martinez, was thrown 40 feet against the porch of the home of Constable Bert Read at Danville yesterday afternoon. The car, a sedan, was badly damaged. The man by Joslin, was unoccupied at the time.

Elmer Martin, 170 Cherry street, Hayward, driver of the truck, declared that he piloted the machine into the rear of the sedan when he swerved suddenly to avoid having his load struck by overhanging branches of trees. The passenger car was thrown 30 feet along the line of the curb and then swerved across the sidewalk into the porch of the residence.

Attention Mr. L. R. Perahall

Dear Sir:

We wish to advise you that the new Zerolene #7 has been tested by us and found to give excellent results in the Rolls-Royce car.

A sample of Zerolene #7 was sent to our factory for this test. After the factory had completed their test which included both a road and laboratory test, your Zerolene #7 was placed on the list of approved oils for Rolls-Royce cars—only the highest grades of oil are on this list.

We have been using Zerolene #7 exclusively for the past six months and the results have proven your oil to be of very high quality and we are pleased to recommend Zerolene to all Rolls-Royce owners. In this recommendation we advise owners to use Zerolene #7 in warm weather and Zerolene #5 where colder conditions are encountered.

Yours very truly,

John B. Shendan

GENE TUNNEY, RETIRES, TO AID IN PICKING WORLD'S CHAMPION

TUNNEY ANNOUNCES PLAN TO RETIRE FROM BOXING

NEW YORK, July 31.—(U.P.)—Gene Tunney, formally announced his retirement from the professional prize ring today.

The man who came up from the streets of Greenwich village to win the heavyweight boxing championship from Jack Dempsey at Philadelphia, September 23, 1926, has fought his last bout as a professional boxer.

"I will never engage in another boxing contest as heavyweight champion of the world," Tunney said today at a banquet given by him, honoring William Muldoon, New York state athletic commissioner, Tex Rickard and New York boxing writers.

"I reached the peak of my career in my bout against Tom Heeneey and after devoting ten years of my life to boxing, I now want to turn to other things."

For the present, Tunney will rest and retire gradually from the public limelight. Later he may announce definitely what business or profession he will enter.

In retiring, Tunney said he was morally obligated to fulfill the second part of a contract he has with Tex Rickard to engage in a bout in 1929, but that the promoter had very graciously agreed not to force him to live up to the contract.

"I recognized the legality of my contract with Rickard when I boxed Tom Heeneey last week," the retiring titleholder said, "and am morally obligated to fulfill the second half of the contract. Rickard has agreed to accept a trophy, emblematic of the heavyweight championship and to present it to the winner of an elimination tournament in lieu of fulfillment of the second part of the contract."

Suspense gripped the group in the banquet hall when Tunney, in acknowledging the presentation of the most valuable boxer award for 1928 to him by Commissioner Muldoon, rose and said slowly haltingly:

"This is the greatest moment of my life—I thought the greatest moment of my life was when I won the heavyweight championship—but this moment transcends it—this one is far greater."

"I am making my exit with a great deal of reluctance. I don't want anyone to think that there is anything wrong with the profession in which I have engaged, and of which I am proud. I cannot be blind to my debt to it."

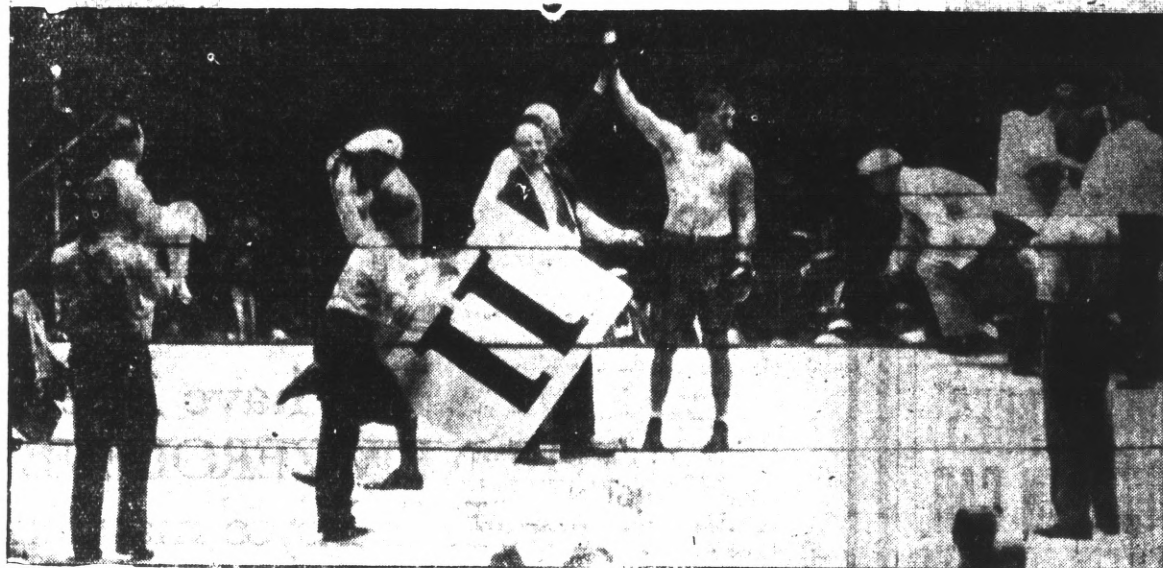

In his speech, Tunney praised boxing as "the most democratic of all sports," elaborating on the circumstances of his retirement, defended his right to give up the championship, and described in detail the plan for selecting his successor.

By making Rickard and Muldoon two of the custodians of the trophy which will be called the Muldoon-Tunney trophy, the retiring hero is removing, to keep out the champion is virtually giving kick-dust and grit.

AND THE WORST IS YET TO COME

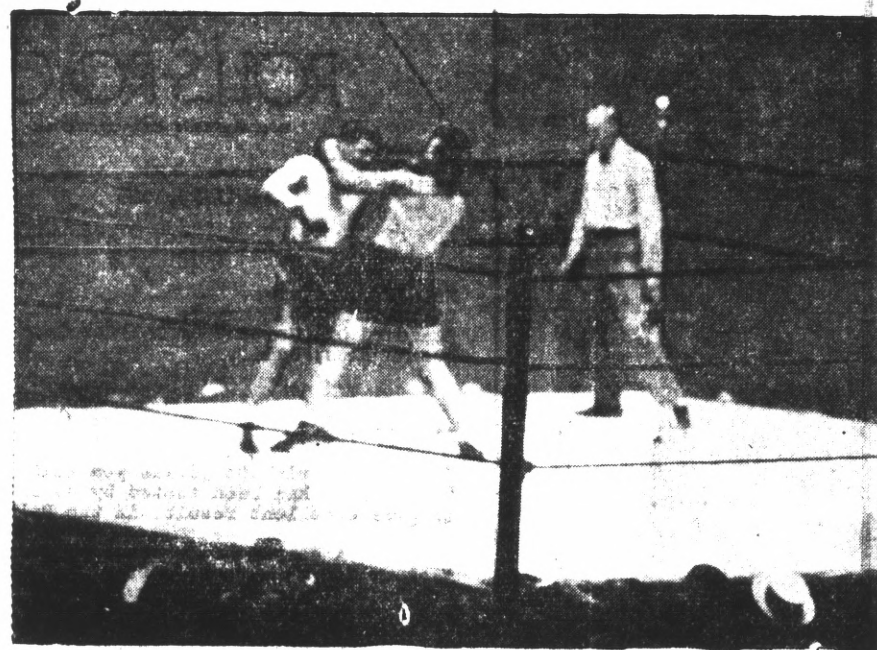

These May Be Last Photos of Champ in Action

HERE'S THE WINDUP PICTURE of the sparsely attended Tunney-Heeneey fight in New York. After Referee Forbes stopped the melee in the 11th round, he proceeded to hold up the hand of Gene Tunney. This may be the last time Tunney's hand is raised in token of victory, following his announcement yesterday at a banquet in New York that he has decided to retire from the prize ring.

At 98 Captain Continues To Pilot Steamer

ST. ALBANS, Vt., July 30.—United Press.—Seventy-one years ago Eli B. Rockwell took out his first pilot's license. Today, hale and hearty in his 98th year, Captain Rockwell is daily on the bridge of the steamer Vermont as it piles up and down Lake Champlain.

The venerable captain's ambition is to round out 88 years of service as a sailor on Lake Champlain. This he will do, he vows, if he attains the century mark.

"I do not spend too much time in reviewing the past," he says, "but look forward to the future. Well, they are to spend at least two years more in the pilot house of the Vermont."

During his 85 years on the lake, not an accident has been checked against his name. He has held the rank of captain of the Vermont since it was built, 27 years ago.

Interest In 1932 Olympic On Increase

Increasing interest in the world Olympic Games to be held in California in 1932 is noted with the staging of the track and field contests in Amsterdam, where the world Games are being held this year. Thousands of athletes and sportsmen from every nation are now gathered in the Netherlands, as well as other thousands of visitors and tourists, many of them art lovers and scholars attracted by the exhibitions and competitions in sculpture, architecture and other arts, which, in addition to the athletic contests, are a part of the Olympic program.

Interest in California's great 1932 event is State-wide as the competitions and exhibitions of that year will not be confined to one city, and the visitors it will attract will tour the entire State. Directors of the California Tenth Olympiad Association include R. B. Hale, Herbert Fleishacker and William F. Humphrey, of San Francisco; William May Garland, Edward D. Lyman, and Maynard McFie of Los Angeles; Frank J. Belcher, Jr., of San Diego; Fred W. Kissel, of Sacramento; C. C. Teague of Santa Paula; Dr. Robert A. Millikan, of Pasadena, and other well known citizens.

According to these, the benefits that California will receive from the 1932 Olympiad will exceed many times, both in actual money and in future advantages, the cost of the holding of the Games. Toward this cost the State legislature, at its last session, voted authorization of $1,000,000 as the State's share.

Starting as a maid servant, Miss Sillinnip is now Assistant Minister of Industry in the new Socialist Cabinet of Finland.

OAKS WIN PUTS STARS AT TOP

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—A tenth inning rally enabled the Stars to win today and regain first place in the Pacific Coast league.

Sacramento was pushed into second place by losing to Oakland by a ninth inning rally, while the Oaks gained hold of fourth place because of the defeat suffered by the Missions at the hands of the Stars.

The Oaks, by defeating Los Angeles were within two games of the second place Sacramento Solons.

The Hollywood-Mission game was hard fought during the entire ten innings. The Stars scored in the first period but the Missions tied the count in the fifth and added two more in the eighth. The Stars again tied the score in the ninth and won, 4 to 3, by adding a run in the tenth.

Oakland and Sacramento practically played their game in the last two innings. With the score tied at 2 all the Senators scored four times in the eighth. The Oaks came back in the ninth and put across five runs, making the final score 7 to 6.

The game here was never in doubt after the first inning when the Oaks scored four times. The final count was 7 to 2.

Portland took a two run lead in the first inning and continued scoring to beat Seattle 8 to 1.

Knight, Portland pitcher, allowed the Indians only seven hits and turned in the best twirling performance of the afternoon.

What's become of all the homely women?

WOMEN simply aren't homely any more. You meet plain women, yes... but their smart, trim air is the envy of many who are only beautiful.

In the old days, when a girl gave promise of becoming "hopelessly plain," she was frankly informed of the fact to save her from hurt pride in later years. She remained frumpy and tried to convince herself that she didn't care!

Not today!

Advertising has played a remarkable part in making every woman attractive.

It has taught her to use the beauty and charm that are her heritage, regardless of the shape of her features. Her teeth, her hair, her hands, her complexion, her clothes, and even her erect, athletic figure have been "brought out" by methods constantly before her in advertising.

The great beauty and style specialists of the country have been her consultants, as they are yours, if you are taking fullest advantage of the opportunities before you every day, in the advertising columns of this newspaper.

Read the advertisements. They hold secrets of beauty and style that were denied the women of yesterday

HOOVER GETS INVITATION TO MOOSE CONFAB

WATSONVILLE, July 31.—Herbert Hoover, national republican standard bearer, has been invited to be the honored guest and speaker at the first annual convocation of the California members of the Loyal Order of Moose, meeting here in the "Apple City" for a three day's convention, September 1, 2 and 3.

W. J. Hamilton, chairman of the speakers' committee of the Moose convocation, Supervisor of Alameda county and Secretary of Oakland Lodge of Moose, extended the invitation to Hoover in the following letter:

Hon. Herbert Hoover,
Palo Alto, California.

My dear Mr. Hoover:
California Moosehood takes great pleasure in inviting you to be its guest and speaker at the first annual state convocation of the members of the Loyal Order of Moose in California to be held at Watsonville, September 1, 2, and 3.

More than 10,000 members of the Order from every section of California are scheduled to attend this gathering. The big day has been set aside for Monday, September 3 (Labor day) and it is on this date we invite you to be with us. The Watsonville Auditorium has a seating capacity of 7500 and every seat will be occupied.

As you know, your colleague and friend, the Hon. James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, heads the Loyal Order of Moose as director general, but as Mr. Davis will be in Europe during September, we know that he will appreciate the honor of having his distinguished colleague talk to his fellow Moose and friends in California at Watsonville on September 3.

New Fender For Carquinez Span

On top of this island of rip-rap will be constructed a reinforced deck structure, surrounding the four center piers together with a huge circular girder or trestle of concrete on the piers themselves and auxiliary piles under the girder span between the north and south pier units.

No such work has ever been undertaken in the history of engineering so far as known. The fender design is unique due to the depths of water involved, the type of structure protected and the large forces which the fender has been designed to resist. It may set the precedent for fender protection on other large bridges to be built in the San Francisco bay region.

Supporting the deck and girder structure will be 462 concrete piles each approximately 90 feet in length and each weighing 17 tons. Some 271 feet will be 30 inches square in cross section and driven vertically into the rock island. One hundred and eighty eight of the piles will be 22 inches square in cross section and will be driven with a batter or slant in order to offer a component of horizontal resistance to a blow from floating equipment out of control, such as large freighters, dredgers, barges. These brace piles are unique in that the center of the pile is hollow to reduce bending stresses because of the position in which the pile is to be driven.

Forty thousand cubic yards of concrete and 473 tons of reinforcing steel will be utilized to construct the piles. The concrete used in the pile construction would be sufficient to build a concrete highway a mile and a half long 30 feet wide and 6 inches deep.

The reinforced concrete deck structure and circular girder will be cast integrally with the supporting piles and the four piers, tending to make all the piers act as a unit in resisting a horizontal blow in conjunction with the 188 brace piles.

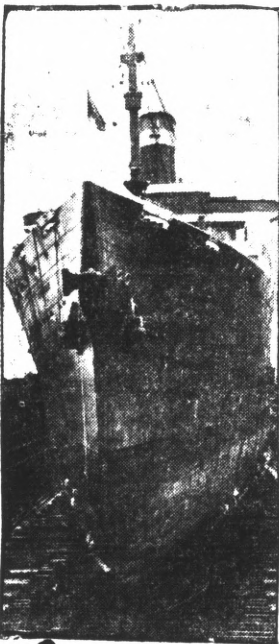

The deck structure is to be a pointed ellipse in shape about 360 feet long and 250 feet in width with noses projecting up and down stream. The edges of the deck structure will be armored with steel to deflect the blow of a ship. The deck structure and circular girder will require 500 cubic yards of concrete and 450 tons of reinforcing steel.

What this means may be judged when it is known that 6000 cubic yards of concrete were used in the construction of each of the four center bridge piers which the fender is designed to protect.

The entire fender structure together with the four piers have a mass in excess of 70,000 tons. A large part of this mass will be available to resist the blow from a colliding vessel.

Construction of the fender was undertaken at the suggestion of the United States government as a precaution against ships out of control passing under the Carquinez bridge. Colonel T. H. Jackson, heading the staff of U.

THE FLAGSHIP of the United States Merchant Marine, the Leviathan, is again in drydock for her semi-annual cleaning. This is a view of the giant liner as she appears in the drydock. The barely discernible dots along sides of the vessel are the size of the liner.

S. Army engineers in charge of all harbor and waterway development in the Pacific coast area, approved the plans January 25, 1928, following approval of permit drawings of the structure by the chief of U. S. army engineers and the secretary of war in Washington. Louis Jennings is resident engineer on the job at Crockett.

He is charged with placing puncture vine on a public highway.

John might have heated over his alleged act had he known beforehand that a traffic cop would be the first victim of the strange strange creature.

Traffic Officer Olivero had gone to the neighborhood to investigate reports that puncture vine had been seen on the road. But before he became aware of its presence, his motorcycle had plowed into a mass of the spine-like weed.

Stopping, he was greeted by a delegation of neighbors who charged Olivero had deliberately placed the vine on the road in front of his home.

U. S. WOMEN TAKE HONORS AT OLYMPIAD

AMSTERDAM, July 31.—(U.P.)—American athletes won two of the four Olympic events held today and took an auspicious lead in the point score of all nations.

One of the United States triumphs today was in the women's events. Miss Elizabeth Robinson of Chicago dashing the 100 metres distance in 12.4 seconds to beat the fastest women athletes of the world. The other American victory was scored by Eddie Hamm of Georgia Tech., who established a new Olympic record in the running broad jump with a leap of 25 feet, 4.3 inches.

The other events held today were won by Great Britain and Poland. Douglas Lowe, veteran of the British team beat the field in the 500 metres run, breasting the tape in 1 minute, 51.8 seconds for a new Olympic record—one tenth of a second faster than the record established by Ted Meredith in 1912.

Miss Konopacka of Poland won the discus throw for women with a loss of 129 feet, 11.84 inches.

The fair-haired little girl from Chicago's south side, who never ran a serious race in her life until four months ago, restored American athletic supremacy in her spring after nearly two days had passed with the United States flag raised on the center pole. She was bashful when the United Press correspondent talked to her after the race. Showered with congratulations from every side, Miss Robinson could only smile her thanks.

"Really, I don't quite know how I did it, for Miss Rosenfield (Canada) caught me a few yards from the tape. I just felt I must go on and win and so I stuck out my chest," she said, "I was never happier in my life."

Miss Smith, another Canadian, was third.

Hamm's victory in the broad jump came on his first try when the Georgia Tech athlete touched the sunken take off board and flung himself through the air to better the Olympic record, the broken sand, where Hamm's body first touched was enough for the day and he hopelessly outclassed his competitors although Alfred H. Bates, of Penn State, made the finals and placed third.

"I hoped all along just to make one jump," Hamm said, "I knew that my first effort should be the best, if I had good luck."

Hamm was the shyest of the American competitors and declined to talk much about his victory.

Another American girl found place position. Miss Copeland threw the discus beyond the best efforts of her competitors but her attempt was not allowed because she stepped outside the circle, giving Miss Konopacka first place.

Margaret Jenkins of the northern California A. C. a strong member of the women's team, failed to perform normally because she missed warming up before the contests started. Her throws were too high.

NOBILE WINS OVATION AS HE REACHES HOME

ROME, July 31.—(U.P.)—General Umberto Nobile and the small group of his companions who were rescued from the icy north after the crash of the ill-fated Italia arrived home today to receive their first cheers.

Hissed and booed, or even completely ignored during their dash from Copenhagen to Italy, the group arrived among their countrymen today to find a welcome hand extended.

Visibly moved, Nobile leaped out of the window of his car at Munich and thanked a handful of Italians, headed by the Italian consul, who cheered the party as they passed through there. The population of Munich ignored the arrival.

The express train crossed the international frontier shortly after dawn this morning. At Verona the little band of survivors lost one of its group, Lieutenant Alfredo Viglieri, who bade farewell to his comrades and departed to his home near Milan.

Viglieri was greeted by a large crowd upon his arrival in Milan. Government officials and civil and military authorities participated in the welcome. Numbers of girls crowded forward to embrace and kiss the rescued explorer. Following the reception, Viglieri continued his journey to Borghetto, where his mother lives.

HOTEL CARQUINEZ

Arrivals at the Hotel Carquinez yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Watson of San Bernardino, Mr. and Mrs. L. Van Gundy of Fresno; Mrs. R. E. Chambers of Fresno; P. W. Doane of Fresno; B. L. Boyd of San Bernardino; A. E. Chambers of Fresno and Mrs. F. DeCamp of San Jose.

Food Values

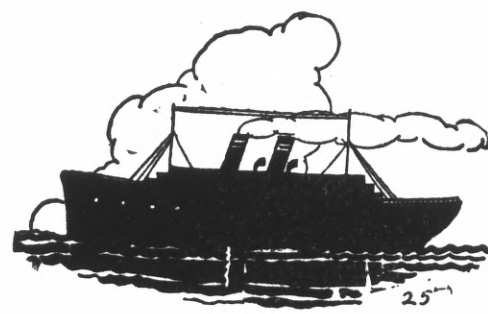

After all, the only thing that really counts is our physical and mental condition. If we keep ourselves physically fit we in turn build up our mental capacities. There is no longer any doubt as to the value of FRESH MEATS in building up and maintaining a healthy body. MEAT contains the necessary vitamins and mineral salts so vital in the every day menu. Rigid inspection laws assure the consuming public healthy MEATS which in turn transfer their health-giving qualities to the body.
